It is critical that agencies, professionals and the wider community recognise the signs of strangulation, physical injuries caused by strangulation, and the potential risk of injury and homicide.

Topics will include risk assessment and safety planning, strangulation and traumatic brain injury, recommendations and findings from the fourth report of the NZ Family Violence Death Review Committee. Please select the workshop time that is most suitable for you and your organisation.

Workshop 1

10am – 12.30pm
(Refreshments included)

Workshop 2

5pm – 7pm
(Refreshments included)

Facilitator: Rob Veale

Rob Veale has worked to reduce domestic violence, and the effects of violence, as a police officer, detective, national and international advisor, and member of the Family Safety Team National Steering Committee and NZ Family Violence Death Review Committee.
